

What is the STTRB Program?

Standing Together To Resist Bullying (STTRB), this is a phrase coined by Writtenbykids. It represents our outlook on positively stomping out bullying, using love as a unified group. This concept is meant to collectively develop positive reading materials for children, produce by other children from their perspectives. These stories usually originate from real life experiences, and are meant to provide positive methods of understanding, discussing and dealing with similar issues that they may be faced with.

Writtenbykids Publishing Company's mission is to produce, promote and distribute quality kids reading materials that positively speak directly to issues facing our youth today. We support young authors and illustrators by providing workshops, mentoring, newsletters, free books, contests, and other activities that promote and emulate our mission.

A portion of each contribution made to Writtenbykids through sponsorship or donation goes to the STTRB program these funds are used to make it possible for children that may have difficulty affording fees or services associated with publishing a book or illustration.

Join us in support and promoting literacy to our youth!
